THE CAPITOL WHIRL

A Digest of Things
Political Occurring At Harrisburg

HARRISBURG, May 6—(INS)—Several Capitol Hill politicians have predicted that the bonus proposal of Attorney General James H. Duff, Republican organization candidate for Governor, was a body blow to insurgent GOP candidate John U. Shroyer. Duff suggested that veterans "should take the responsibility of making recommendations for the form the bonus is to take" but emphasized that they would be shouldered with the cost through taxes.

"The Township Commissioner" organ of the Pennsylvania State Association of Township Commissioners, has reported that the Eighth Annual State Fire School will be held at Lewistown August 5 through 12. The school, which will be sponsored by the Public Service Institute and the Department of Public Instruction, was expected to attract approximately 500 firemen.

The Department of Forests and Waters had compiled a report outlining its activities and plans of administration. The information was designed primarily for the use of students in preparation of school reports or essays. The report pointed out that there were 1,655,870 acres of State forests located in 29 of the Commonwealth's 67 counties.

Some officials at the State Capitol have pointed out that very few Pennsylvanians know that the Commonwealth has an official flower, tree and bird. The State flower is the mountain laurel, the tree, the hemlock, and the bird, the ruffed grouse. Pennsylvania's State motto is "Virtue, Liberty and Independence."

Throughout the rotunda and corridors of the first floor of the main Capitol building in Harrisburg is a richly colored pavement interspersed with more than 400 tile mosaics. The mosaics suggest animals and birds as well as industry, occupation and modes of travel common at one time in the Keystone State.

The Pennsylvania Chiefs of Police Association Bulletin has reported "The fact that the average American city still has about one-third of its total (police) strength on foot patrol indicates that the auto has not yet modified the time-honored foot patrol system." Foot patrol is still needed in areas where sight of a uniform is an excellent crime deterrent—areas where pool rooms, saloons, and similar places of amusement cater to a low-class clientele.

The State Agricultural Department has announced that rutin, the new drug which reduces high blood pressure, can be provided from green buckwheat plants at about $1 a pound. The drug, which until recently had been obtained from tobacco, had cost up to $1.35 a pound, the Department added.

Admonish Against Mixing Rubbish and Garbage

Richard T. Myers, chairman of the health and sanitation committee of Bristol borough council, requests that residents of the borough not mix garbage and rubbish which is placed at the curbs for collectors. The garbage should be put out on the regular garbage collection days, and the same with the rubbish, he states, and the two should not be mixed.

It is also asked that the refuse be placed at the curb early in the morning.

FRACTURES CLAVICLE

CROYDON AUXILIARY

CROYDON, May 6—A meeting of Ladies' Auxiliary of Croydon Fire Co., No. 1, will be conducted this evening. Business of importance is scheduled.

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

Moscow's reaction to Secretary Byrnes' proposals for twenty-five-year four-power treaties to keep Germany and Japan disarmed and thus assure Russia against aggression were said in Washington to have disheartened the friends of the Soviet Union within the Administration. The Russian challenge to America's good faith has strengthened those who feel that Moscow has been using its economic, political and military power to further its fight against the capitalist world and that any community of interest is virtually impossible under present conditions.

Mr. Byrnes cancelled the scheduled meeting of the Big Four in Paris yesterday and instead held a lengthy conference with Foreign Secretary Bevin, from which he came away discouraged, and later dined with Foreign Minister Molotov. France proposed that Italy demilitarize her side of the French border, a move that won Russian support, but was opposed by the United States and Britain.

The French were critical of the persistence with which Mr. Byrnes and Mr. Bevin held to their views on the Trieste-Venezia Giulia set-

One other Gold Star mother, Mrs. John Boyle, was unable to attend. Chapter officers followed the Gold Star mothers.

Silent prayer was offered in tribute to those who gave their lives in service.

The hall was decorated in red and white, with vases of white gladiolus and red azaleas on the stage. Red and white carnations decked the tables; and each Gold Star mother was presented with a bouquet of flowers. A bouquet was sent to Harry Crohe, who is ill. ANNIVERSARY SERMON GIVEN AT "CALVARY"

Pastor Strauss Cites Spiritual, Numerical Growth of Congregation

ESTABLISHED 8 YEARS

On the occasion of the eighth anniversary of Calvary Baptist Church yesterday, the pastor, Mr. Lehman Strauss, delivered a special anniversary sermon in the morning service.

At the outset the clergyman reminded his listeners: "It will be profitable for us, I feel sure, if we refresh our minds on the subject of the meaning and ministry of the church, what the church is and what it is not. Let us keep in mind that the church is not a social hall nor is it an entertainment bureau. We can find nothing to indicate that the early church goes went to be amused or entertained. The program of the modern liberalistic church in our day is nowhere to be found in the Word of God. Some people go to church merely to hear a sermon, or to enjoy music, or to play cards, or to eat at a banquet, or to attend a lodge function, or to see 'movies,' or to hear a talk on social reform or civic life. But none of these should be the reason for attending the house of God. Of necessity we should go to church to worship God, and God can be approached only through faith in the Lord Jesus Christ Jesus Himself said: 'I am the Way, the Truth, and the Life; no man cometh unto the Father but by Me' (John 14:6)."

"The New Testament Church is not an organization but an organism. The Scriptures teach us that the Church is called the Body of Christ: 'For we are members of His body, of His flesh, and of His bones' (Ephesians 5:30). 'Christ is the Head of the Church' (Ephesians 5:24). Christ is 'Head over all things to the Church, which is His body' (Ephesians 1:22, 23). These are precious truths! Some may think that this explanation is too ethereal, too mystical, and therefore it does not mean much to them. But, as Dr. Thomas Lambie has said: 'The exact contrary is true. The realization of this relationship is intensely practical in its outworkings and satisfying in its divine logic. Its knowledge will make life richer and sweeter and infinitely more useful. It will brighten the darkest day and strengthen the most impatient arm. To know that we are part of the matchless Body of Christ will bring unpeakable joy to the most downcast Christian.'"

"All who put faith in the Lord Jesus Christ as their Saviour from sin are truly Christian, and theirs is a blessed relationship of being members of His Body. Regardless of your denominational affiliation, if you are truly saved through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus, then you are a Christian and a member of the Body of Christ. The true Church embraces and embodies all true believers in the Lord Jesus Christ. This living organism whose membership is made up of Christians from all over the world, will be a witness to Jesus Christ until He comes again and takes her to be with Himself, 'a glorious Church, not having spot, nor wrinkle, or any such thing' (Ephesians 5:27)."

"The Calvary Baptist Church of Bristol is a local organization whose members have testified to being within the living organism, the Body of Christ, having been born again by the Spirit of God. This church always has stood for a regenerated membership. We have

ONE MAN'S OPINION . . .

By Walter Kiernan
(Distributed by International News Service)

UN HALL. (Now it can be told)—We have been tottering on the brink of confusion.

For a whole week Gromek of the Cleveland Indians and Gromyko of the Moscow Reds were only two subway stops apart.

One error in the underground and we might have had Gromyko fielding line drives and Gromek denouncing Franco.

Both are pitchers but Gromyko walks more often.

Gromek pitched against the Yankees on Friday . . . Gromyko did most of his pitching against the Yankees last month.

But to get to larger topics . . . there are reports that women's feet are getting bigger. This is not based upon returns from movie house cleaning women but upon doctors' reports.

It appears that the women with size four feet who wore six because five was so comfortable is now crowding into sevens . . . with the size scratched out.

Not only are women standing on their own feet these days but there is grave danger of them stepping on ours.

Big Four Deadlocked on Italian Peace Treaty

Paris—The Big Four foreign ministers, deadlocked on preparations for an Italian peace treaty, met only briefly today despite indications that the American delegation set a ten-day deadline for results.

The foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, France and Russia convened at 11 a. m.—6 a. m., EDT—and adjourned two hours and 50 minutes later, announcing there would be no afternoon session.

Paris observers understood that no important decisions were reached, since Russia remained adamant on issues surrounding the Italian treaty deliberations.

Anglo-Egyptian Talks to Start

London—A British Government spokesman said today Anglo-Egyptian talks would open in Cairo sometime this week to negotiate revisions in the treaties governing Britain's activities in Egypt.

Meantime Reuter reported that Cairo was hopefully expecting an announcement today of some major English concession, possibly the withdrawal of all British armed forces, to coincide with the tenth anniversary of King Farouk's coronation.

Recent riots in Cairo and Alexandria were staged to protest the continued rule of British forces in Egypt.

ROBBING THE ILL

Hearings before the Senate Agriculture Committee have brought out one of the most serious—and saddest—aspects of the growing black market in meat. This is the fact that the increasing flow of animals to illegal slaughterers is threatening to produce an acute shortage of insulin and other essential drug supplies.

Insulin, which has saved the lives of countless diabetics since its discovery, is made from the pituitary glands of cattle. The firms which manufacture the drug rely on the large meat packers to supply them with glands. Small packers lack the facilities for saving them. So-called black market slaughterers simply throw them away.

The result is that the supply of glands and consequently the supply of insulin is steadily declining as more and more meat animals go into independent slaughtering channels.

It is bad enough for the average family to be forced to go without meat. But a shortage in insulin is an infinitely more serious affair. For men and women seriously afflicted with diabetes the difference between having insulin and being forced to go without it means the difference between life and death.

According to leading drug manufacturers, the situation is now more critical than it has been at any time since the beginning of the war. Unless meat is rerouted to the large packers, the shortage in many essential medicines may soon become acute.

ENLISTING IN THE ARMY

The Army is in the midst of an intensive recruiting campaign in an effort to make volunteer service the backbone of the nation's defense. In the next few months, emphasis will be placed on the educational advantages the Army offers.

Approximately 600,000 boys will be graduated from high school during May and June and they will have an opportunity never before given to a peacetime graduating class. If they choose to enlist in the Army and after they have served three years they will receive an educational bonus of forty-eight months—four full years—or more than five ordinary college years of higher education. This is made possible under the GI Bill of Rights voluntary recruitment act passed in 1945.

The Army educational offer means that now every qualified boy can go to college, whereas heretofore only one out of ten has been able to afford a higher education. Enlistments may be made for shorter terms, with corresponding educational benefits after service.

The Army recruiting campaign should receive the particular support of persons who favor a volunteer system rather than extension of the draft or universal military training. And the Army, in turn, would do well to stress the country's need for a trained peacetime force and make an appeal to patriotism along with its stressing of individual benefits.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

(By Courier Staff Member)

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette issue dated at Bristol May 14, 1891. The Gazette, a weekly newspaper published in Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

Assessor Burton reports the net gain in valuation in real estate in the second ward to be $32,209, and in personal estate about $8,000. There are 51 more residents in the ward than there were last year.

A large tower for the gateman at the Mill street crossing arrived from South Trenton yesterday morning and was at once placed in position by a gang of workmen. It will render the crossing safer than it is at present, as the gateman will be in the upper part of it, from which spot he can see approaching trains, and can raise and lower the gates from his elevated position.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Bristol Gaslight Company was held last Thursday at the office of Samuel Swain. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Anthony Swain; secretary and treasurer, Samuel Swain; directors, Anthony Swain, Louis A. Hoguet, Horatio B. Beatty, Howard Pursell and James Buckman.

The link of telephone line between Quakertown and Coopersburg connecting wires of the Delaware and Atlantic Telegraph and Telephone Co. with those of the Pennsylvania Telephone Co., was completed and opened to the public on Monday. This will enable subscribers in Doylestown, Newtown, Bristol, Lansdale, Norristown and from all other offices of the former company to talk with Allentown, Easton, Bethlehem, South Bethlehem and points covered by the Pennsylvania company.

The meeting in Riverview Hall last Thursday evening, under the auspices of the Bristol Board of Trade, was largely attended. The speaker of the evening, Carroll Ph. Bassett, was thoroughly conversant with his subject and gave the audience more ideas about sewerage than they ever had before. Mr. Bassett spoke of the feasibility of sewerage.

Anniversary Sermon Given At "Calvary"

opened our doors to all for the hearing of the Gospel, but only those who have given some testimony by life and by lip that they were born again, have been received into the membership. A mere handful have fallen by the way. Let us minister kindly to them, pray for them, and seek only their spiritual and physical well-being. In considering Calvary Church's work, he said in part: "In these days the Church of Jesus Christ cannot afford to neglect her important task of showing a personal interest in children. Of course I am thinking chiefly of the spiritual welfare of children. In this ministry God has greatly blessed our efforts. The fruit is the evidence. Below is a scale showing the average attendance in our Sunday School for the past seven years, including the average for the past eight weeks: "1st year, 84; 2nd year, 94; 3rd year, 108; 4th year, 125; fifth year, 162; 6th year, 192; seventh year, 234; last 8 weeks, 295. "There have been several contributing factors to the progress of the Sunday School; the close cooperation of the staff members and your pastor with the officers, the prayers and financial support of the church members, and the ideas for improvement that you have offered from time to time. We will never forget the way you rallied to the need when we purchased our two buses. The bus transportation is meeting a great need at present, and only eternity will reveal the results. "There is no question in any of our minds that we made a move in the right direction when we followed the Lord's leading in connection with employing a church missionary. Miss Helen Hertzler is doing an excellent piece of work, and this along with the faithfulness of your officers and teachers in bringing eternal blessing into the lives of these hundreds of boys and girls. You have heeded the word of our Lord when He said concerning the little children: 'Forbid them not to come unto Me: For of such is the kingdom of Heaven' (Matthew 19:14). "One of the anticipated bright spots each year is our Daily Vacation Bible School. Again, we could never carry on this great program if you had not sacrificed. Each year we have had an average of twenty capable workers who offered their services. Without your labor of love we never could have taught so efficiently the hundreds of children who came to us. I am sure that you realize the Sunday School of today is the church of tomorrow. The training of these boys and girls for Christian service is the greatest contribution we can make to the world. We have not failed in this nor can we afford to retard our efforts and energy now. There is a greater work to be done right here. "Before concluding my message I

A HOPE FOR SHOWERS

VETERANS' QUERIES

Q. Where can I get help figuring out what to do with my National Service Life Insurance? I can't make heads nor tails of these 20 year pay plans, etc.

A. Go to the Veterans Administration contact office in your neighborhood; you will get full explanation and friendly advice. The VA contact office in Bristol is in the Municipal Building.

Q. A friend and I want to buy a farm. We are both veterans. Can we pool our loan guarantee entitlement to buy a farm in partnership?

A. Yes. But not more than 50% of the total loan will be guaranteed, nor more than $4,000 for each veteran.

Q. Can I go to just any school I choose and get the benefits I am entitled to as a veteran?

A. No. If you are disabled and taking courses under the rehabilitation program, the school must convince the Veterans Administration that it can rehabilitate you, and enter into contract with the VA to do so. VA training officers will supervise progress. If you are not disabled, and want to go to school under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act (the GI Bill of Rights), you can go to any school that has been approved by the State Department of Public Instruction; the VA is forbidden by Public Law 346 to "supervise" or "control" such schools. Only if a school wants to charge more than $500 tuition a year against your entitlement under Public Law 346 must it enter into contract with the VA.

Q. Do veterans of World War II have the same benefits as veterans of other wars?

A. No. The Servicemen's Readjustment Act and certain other laws set up benefits for veterans of World War II only. Some pension laws give veterans of other wars benefits which do not apply to veterans of World War II.

Q. What is the purpose of this "vocational rehabilitation" I hear about for disabled veterans?

A. To restore to a veteran the employability which he has lost because of a handicap resulting from some disability which was incurred in or aggravated by service.

Q. My former employer refused to reinstate me in my old job. What can the Veterans Administration do for me?

A. Refer you to the proper agency, in this case, your Selective Service Board. Take up the case with your board.

Q. If I change my National Service Life Insurance from term insurance, can I date the converted policy back to the time I took out my insurance in service?

A. Yes. National Service Life term insurance may be converted to permanent plans either at the rate for your present age, or if dated back to the effective date of the original term policy or any intermediate date, at the rate for your age at that time.

Q. If, in converting my NSLI term policy to a permanent plan, I date the permanent plan back to the time of my original service insurance, will I lose the premiums I have paid for my term insurance or will I get credit for them against the back payments I must make into the back-dated permanent plan?

A. You do not "lose" the premiums already paid on your term insurance; you have had life insurance coverage during those years at low cost. But just as though you had bought the permanent insurance in the first place, you must put up in cash the reserve on your permanent plan, less a small credit for the term insurance payments you mention in your question. If you had bought the permanent plan in the first place it would now have a cash value, and this is the amount you are asked to establish; this value is available to you for loan, etc., as soon as you set it up. The money you paid for your term insurance coverage is like rent for a house—you have the use of the house but get no back rent when you move out. If the permanent plan to which you are converting had been available to you in the first place, you would have paid more money for it, like installments on a house you were buying, but you would have been creating an equity. An advantage of back-dating, when now converting to a permanent plan, is the lower rate of insurance for the earlier age.

Q. I am a veteran of World War I. Is there any time limit for my filing a claim for compensation for disability caused by my war service?

A. No. Service-connection at this late date might be difficult to prove. A veteran of WWI may be pensioned for total disability not due to service.

Ford's out Front

Women Love Its Beauty

They love its smooth, flowing lines . . . its newly styled stainless steel grille. And they love the new two-toned interiors, too—the rich upholstery fabrics!

Men Love Its Power

They like the "feel" of the big new 100 horsepower Ford V-type, 8-cylinder engine—the most powerful engine in Ford's price-class (the type of engine used in America's costliest cars).

Everybody Likes Its Safety

Those new oversized hydraulic brakes are self-centering, give sure, silent stops. Big 12-inch drums (you'll find them in no other car in Ford's class) act smoothly, with less pedal pressure.

Yes, owners of the big new Ford say, "Ford's out front in everything." It puts a brand-new thrill in driving.

NOT ON YOUR TINTYPE!

Grandma looks calm and collected as she poses for posterity, but she wasn't—not on your tintype! Getting her family ready for this picture was a long, weary business.

The day this photo was snapped, Grandma was up at dawn, wrestling with the old wood stove, coaxing the kettle to boil, cooking breakfast. And the day before, she ironed the mountain of clothes that had needed such hard scrubbing. The day before that—

But that was Grandma's life. She didn't know any other kind. Her way of housekeeping took lots of time, lots of elbow grease. In Grandma's gayest dreams she never imagined the time would come when a woman would have dozens of electric servants daily for the cost of a bar of soap.

Electric service—ready and willing around the clock and calendar—is a modern miracle Grandma missed by being born too soon. But electrical dependability (and cheapness, too) didn't happen by accident. Not on your tintype! They're the result of plenty of hard work and practical experience on the part of your neighbors who operate this company.

"Where'er I roam, I dream of Home"

EXCERPT FROM A SOLDIER'S LETTER

" . . . So once again I view the saga of history and places. Beyond a doubt all States hold interest in their history, development and scenery, but I shall never tire of Pennsylvania. It alone embraces variety and romance that no other State can boast.

"I have found, in meeting men from all over the United States, that too few know much about their native States. I have recalled a hundred times the many trips we took as if they were yesterday. When I think of Pennsylvania, I see its very outline in my mind. The part that holds my interest for the moment is not just a name or a city; to me it is a picture, a scene in history, industry, a familiar road or mountain. It is a river or valley with a story that gives it a place in my memory.

"Who from somewhere else can say they saw and know where Marie Antoinette planned to make a home, Asylum! I climb again the steep winding stairs of Ephrata's Cloisters. I stand at night on Mt. Washington and look down at Pittsburgh's Golden Triangle and watch the great steel mills belching fire and smoke. I tour Philadelphia, walk in Independence Square, and touch the Liberty Bell.

"Valley Forge . . . Gettysburg . . . Fort Necessity . . . they made history—books come alive! Oil wells against the sky; coal mines . . . coal, hard and soft . . . and learning what goes on to bring it as a life-product to man.

"I think about Big Valley and see the Amish and Mennonite farmer folk with their queer clothes and recall stories of their strange customs.

"Pictures arise—the winding streams that challenge the fisherman; Lake Scranton, still as glass; looking for deer in the twilight woods; sleeping on a mountain top in Cook's Forest and watching the sun dispel the valley fog at day-break; camping in the summertime, picking huckleberries, and seeing teaberry leaves pressed into winter-green oil.

"Who could be as lucky as I . . . to have been shown what beauty was in my own back yard! . . . And yet, so many, even from Pennsylvania, don't know these things exist . . ."

TEST DIAL-TYPE GAUGE OF STEAM PRESSURE CANNER

By Sara Jane Reish (Assistant) Home Economics Representative

Practical and patriotic home canners, who plan to put up garden vegetables this summer, are urged to make sure a dial-type gauge of a steam pressure canner is tested before canning begins.

The gauge is the home canner's guide and reliance as to temperature inside a steam pressure canner. A gauge registering incorrectly without the home canner's knowledge, may cause jars of food to be heated too little, with possible spoilage later, or heated too much, with loss of food value and flavor.

If your gauge has not been tested for a year, bring it to the County Agricultural Extension Office and it will be tested for you within a day or two. Help prevent food spoilage by being sure your pressure cooker gauge is accurate.

A delicate dial-type gauge needs checking before each canning season, and oftener if the canner is kept hard at work. A weighted type of pressure gauge needs no checking—only a good cleaning.

Defer Scheduled Auto Races At Langhorne

The return of automobile racing to Langhorne Speedway, originally scheduled for Sunday, May 26, has been deferred. Jimmy Frattone, new owner of the track, has announced. The new opening date probably will be announced within two weeks.

Frattone stated that the reason for the delay in opening is due to the extensive repairs to the plant. He said that he wants assurances of the many improvements and renovations being made are completed at least a week before the opening program.

Frattone, a resident of Ardmore, recently purchased the Langhorne Speedway, formerly operated by the late Ralph Hankinson and the late Lucky Teeter, from the Hamid interests for $50,000. The last race was run there in May, 1942.

More than $20,000 is being spent on repairs and improvements. They include rebuilding of the stands, a new ticket quarters and office, modern toilet facilities, concrete walks, shrubbery and sun-shading canopies and regrading of the track.

Farm School Holstein Completes Fine Record

BRATTLEBORO, Vt., May 6 — A registered Holstein-Friesian cow in the dairy herd owned by National Farm School, near Doylestown, Pa., has recently completed a 365-day production record in herd test of 566 pounds of butterfat and 15,849 pounds of milk, the Holstein-Friesian Association of America announces. This is nearly three times the production of the average dairy cow in this nation.

Her official name is Oriole Lodge Bessie Lyons 2434596. She was milked two times daily and was 5 years 11 months of age when she began her test period. Her sire is King Bessie Ormsby Pietertje 37th (101064 CHD).

Testing was supervised by Pennsylvania State College in cooperation with the Holstein-Friesian Association.

SMOKE-BELCHING TRAINS

NEW YORK—(INS)—Junior's toy trains will go puff-puffing along the tracks belching smoke just like real trains. Product Engineering Magazine says. The trains will use a tiny electric motor developed to operate hydraulic valves of aircraft wing flaps. The track will have only two rails, and cars will be made from plastic, weighing one-third less than a die-cast car.
